

Elite Mountain Homes

One of the pleasures of renting a vacation home is an architectural design that adds to your personal comfort. Mary Anne of Elite Mountain Homes specializes in buying mountain homes, then working with Clockwork Construction in Idyllwild to tailor the living space for both weekend visitors and long-term vacationers.

An excellent example of this partnership is the French Château style home on Fern Valley Rd in Idyllwild. Theo Parker, the general contractor, adapted the outside entrances so that the downstairs bedroom became a private suite. He connected the suite to the great room by adding a small spiral staircase, and styled a clever inset closet for storage. This design solution enables guests to join group activities above or maintain their privacy below.

A second spiral oak staircase leads from the entry to the master bedroom complete with Jacuzzi tub. Glass doors open onto a balcony from the master suite and loft, again offering the option of seclusion. Mary Anne and Theo also opened the space for the dining and living rooms so guests could share meals and conversations in front of the majestic river rock fireplace. Handsome stained glass, bay windows, skylights, and glass doors flood the space with sunlight and connect it to nature with the soothing sounds of Strawberry Creek.

Spacious, secluded grounds behind closed electric gates add to the tranquil beauty of this grand three story house, and decks along one side lead to a private spa. Guests can relax in a hammock by Strawberry Creek or by the waterfall/pond in the backyard. Improvements continue as the interior of the garage is reconfigured to create an artist's studio or more space for large groups.

Mary Anne and Theo applied this same comfort strategy to the Cedar Street

Vacation home near the center of Idyllwild village. Theo used his design skills to modify this ranch-style home with ramps, wheel chair entrances and an ADA-approved bathroom. The three bedroom home is perfect for a family with its large rooms, open floor plan and sliding glass doors leading to a swimming pool and Jacuzzi. Kids can easily walk to the Rustic Theatre for a movie while Mom and Dad relax in the backyard.

The teamwork of Elite Mountain Homes and Clockwork Construction excels in creating comfortable accommodations for Southern California visitors with special requirements. To learn more, visit www.idyllwild-elitemountainhomes.com.
